

From: Lynn Yuan
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/7/01 1:33pm
Subject: Did the govt. flake out on us?

To whom it may concern,

This latest deal with Microsoft is a joke, kind of like the impeachment process of President Clinton.

As any business person would know having Microsoft provide it's own product and USED computers is no real punishment at all.

The cost to Microsoft giving away its software is about 10 cents per disk or less. In addition Microsoft is getting free advertising - money it would need to spend anyway.

Corporations upgrade their equipment all the time, used computers are worth very little. Microsoft should provide new computers as a punishment.

Personally I would rather get $10 from Microsoft rather than see a great advertising campaign for Bill Gates (Microsoft) as a punishment.

As a citizen I am sad to see our government so flaky or should I say betray the people of United States.

Lynn Yuan

Do You Yahoo!?
Send your FREE holiday greetings online!
<http://greetings.yahoo.com>